

2018-19 Roswell Artist-in-Residence Program

PHILOSOPHY

The Roswell Artist-in-Residence Program was established in 1967 to provide professional studio artists with the unique opportunity to concentrate on their work in a supportive, collegial environment for a period of one year. This "gift of time" allows artists to work without distraction in an effort to break new ground and focus on individual goals. The Artist-in-Residence Program serves as a contemporary counterpoint to the traditional arts of the Southwest, reinforces the Program's interest in strengthening the vitality of art in New Mexico and has been a catalyst in broadening community understanding of modern art.

DISCIPLINES

In-residence grants are offered to artists involved with painting, drawing, sculpture, installation, printmaking and other studio-based art making. Grants are not made in the disciplines of performance art or production crafts.

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS and STUDIO FACILITIES

Artists stay in a complex of six house/studios with central buildings (print, media, shop and common areas) and located on 40 acres of land. Each artist is provided with a house that can amply accommodate either a single person or a family. Rent, utilities (except telephone), repairs and maintenance, and wireless Internet costs are covered by the Program. Houses are fully furnished with major furniture items, appliances and utensils. The studios are large, open spaces that measure approximately 25'x20'x10'. These areas are natural and florescent lighted and convertible to the artist's requirements within reason. Because of the close proximity of the buildings and constant interaction of the residents, no dogs are allowed at the residency.

STIPEND

A stipend, or living allowance, of $800 per month is offered, along with $100 per month for every dependent living with the grantee. Thanks to a Sustainable Arts Foundation grant, families with children will receive an additional $100 per child. The RAiR Program will not be responsible for prior debt (or that incurred while under grant) or medical expenses. The cost of art materials and travel will be responsibility of the grantee.

A NOTE TO ARTISTS

Since time is the primary gift of the RAiR Program, artists who apply for a RAiR Fellowship should do so with the intention of living at the residency for a full year. Artists not able to spend a full 12 months in residence should not apply. Artists with family members not interested in relocating for the residency should carefully consider their decision to apply. Resident artists are, of course, free to travel for sightseeing and for career-related reasons during their residency. Again, the close proximity of the buildings and the setting of the residency necessitate a policy of no dogs, and artists with dogs should seriously consider what arrangements they will make for their dog(s) before they begin the application process.
